How to turn on your notifications on your mobile phone or device

Android Notifications

- Swipe down from the top of the screen (once or twice depending on your device's manufacturer),
- tap the Gear icon to open the Settings menu.
- Select the Apps or Notifications option from the menu.
- If you had to choose Apps then you may need to tap Notifications.
- Scroll down the list of apps until you find St Patricks
- Turn on the option to Show notifications

There may be additional options, for example on Samsung phones you can click on Messages and:
- Choose an alert sound (or to have the notification silent)
- Choose whether or not to have the message show as a pop-up
- Select the sound and whether or not the device should vibrate when a message is sent.

You can turn off notifications in the same way.

Change alert styles
1.   Go to Settings and tap Notifications.
2.   Select an app under Notification Style.
3.   Under Alerts, choose the alert style that you want. If you turn on Allow Notifications, choose when you want the notifications delivered — immediately or in the scheduled notification summary.

Change group notification settings
1.   Go to Settings and tap Notifications.
2.   Select an app and tap Notification Grouping.
3.   Select one of these options:
       - Automatic: The notifications from the app are grouped according to organizing criteria within the app, such as by topic or thread.
       - By App: All the notifications from the app are grouped together.
       - Off: Turn off grouping.

Turn off notifications for specific apps
1.   Go to Settings > Notifications, then tap Siri Suggestions.
2.   Turn off any app.

Change how notifications appear on the Lock Screen
1.   Go to Settings > Notifications and select an app.
2.   Tap Show Previews and choose an option.
